Legacy and Beyond

KalingaStone, a global leader in engineered marble, quartz, and terrazzo surfaces, proudly presents its latest innovation – Elixir.

Elixir marks a milestone in KalingaStone's 15-year journey, combining cutting-edge technology with unparalleled craftsmanship.

This ground-breaking premium quartz surface collection is the culmination of 5 years of meticulous research and innovation, addresses evolving design trends and increasingly specific consumer preferences.

#Crafted To Captivate

Inspired by nature's timeless beauty, Elixir by KalingaStone reimagines the allure of natural stones now lost to time. As civilization progressed, many natural marvels reached the brink of extinction, leaving a void in the world of design. Iconic stones like Blue Crystal Agathe, Viola, and Michelangelo, though no longer available, continue to captivate the hearts of millions of designs enthusiast.

At Kalinga Stone, innovation is a way of life.

Our dedicated R&D team took on the challenge of resurrecting these extinct masterpieces. Through relentless effort and a commitment to authenticity, we've created Elixir—a collection that seamlessly blends the essence of these beloved stones with modern engineering.

The saga of Grand Antique
Where time, stone and imagination entwine.

Where time whispers secrets to the earth, the Grand Antique emerges as a symphony of geological artistry.

The surface of Grand Antique is a midnight reverie. Deep, velvety black forms the backdrop, like the cosmic expanse on a moonless night. But it's the veins that steal the show—their alabaster brilliance slicing through the darkness.

Short Description: The saga of Grand Antique - Where time, stone, and imagination entwine.

The Glory of
Bianco Chiniati

Where moonlight and marble intertwine in whispered enchantment.

Bianco Cinianti's surface, as if kissed by ethereal dew, shimmers with soft grey veining. Bianco Cinianti demands respect. It is not merely a countertop or a vanity—it is a covenant - its magic infuses your home, your heart. For in this stone lies not just beauty, but a whispered promise: that the mundane can become extraordinary, and that every touch holds the potential for enchantment.

The touch of

Viola

An eternal dance of contrast and harmony

The creamy backdrop serves as the parchment, and the dark veins, the script of a wizard's powerful runes. This marble holds the whispers of the arcane, the silent songs of the earth, and the secrets of a thousand spells.

A testament to the magic that can be born from the union of natural inspiration and the alchemy of human innovation. A canvas where nature's artistry and human craftsmanship conjure a spectacle of beauty.

The allure of

Blue Crystal Agathe

A canvas where the universe has painted its mystical forces.

Blue Crystal Agathe pulsates with an otherworldly luminescence, reminiscent of the rarest of arcane crystals, coveted by sorcerers for their spellbinding properties. The marble's hues, a tapestry of celestial blues and frosted whites, weave an intricate dance of frozen flames. A real testament to the human desire to harness the beauty of the natural world and enhance it through their own creative spirit, crafting a masterpiece that could easily be the centerpiece of any space.

The essence of

Bianco Crystal

Where light dances on threads of silver woven by dreams & enchantment.

A true piece of artistry conjured from the heart of a glacial palace, each slab a testament to the magic that lies in the hands of those who dare to dream. It is as if the stone itself is imbued with an inner light, a luminescence that glows with the promise of ancient spells and timeless beauty. This is the essence of Bianco Crystal, a luxury engineered marble that speaks of enchantment and splendor. Its surface, a canvas of pristine white, is laced with veins of the softest gray, resembling delicate threads of silver spun by the fabled weavers of the skies.

The Rise of Michelangelo

A testament to the magic that lies in the heart of the earth.

Envision the Michelangelo Quartz as the canvas of an ancient mage, where the art of alchemy and the essence of enchantment are eternally preserved. Its surface, a spellbinding swirl of celestial whites and mystical grays, resembles the timeless dance of ethereal spirits captured mid-waltz. Each vein is a frozen lightning bolt, a remnant of a powerful sorcerer's touch, transforming the mundane into the magnificent.

This quartz does not merely rest in its setting; it reigns over it, casting an aura of opulence and wonder. Michelangelo - it's the cornerstone of creation, where every incantation and every concoction is imbued with the legacy of legends.

The Symphony of Liquid Mercury
where the mysteries
of the cosmos are captured in stone.

A surface, a canvas of liquid dreams. Liquid Mercury's essence, captured in quartz, is a dance of molten silver.

Swirls of gray, like whispers of the moon, that blend and merge in a symphony of sheen. A marvel of modern design, where the fluid elegance of mercury is frozen in time.

The dance of Verde Botanik

Where nature's elegance is etched in stone.

This surface is a tapestry of verdant shades, from deep emerald to soft moss, interwoven with delicate veins of white and gold. It evokes the feeling of walking through a dense forest, where sunlight filters through the canopy, casting dappled shadows on the forest floor. Each swirl and pattern tells a story of nature's beauty, frozen in time yet alive with energy.

The Tranquility of

Verde Botanik Classico

A refreshing embrace of nature

This surface is a symphony of green, with deep emerald tones interwoven with delicate white veins that meander like rivers through a forest. The pattern is reminiscent of leaves kissed by morning dew, each vein a testament to the intricate beauty of nature. It's as if a piece of the forest floor has been transformed into a durable, elegant surface.
